Building Lasting Relationships
One Home at a Time

Cintron Custom Builders

Guided by our mission to deliver homes built to high performance standards, Cinton's Ultimate Performance Homes follow our strict guidelines from the design phase through the entire construction process, resulting in a beautiful new home that is safe, healthy and built to last generations.

Why Cintron?

Cintron Custom Builders' President Jose Cintron's vision is to provide an experience immeasurable with money—customer treatment with sincerity and integrity.

A Cintron client is “family.”

Attention to detail is a constant in every Cintron home we build, no matter the price. Homes range from the $300s to $5 million, with an end result of unmatched value.

Customize an exclusive Cintron plan, bring in a plan of your own, or our design team will create a perfect Southwest Florida home for you and your family.

“We believe it is an honor to build your home and not the other way around. A company is only as good as those that embody their mission. Our mission is: To deliver a truly exceptional new home, every time,” states Vice President John Blaine, of Cintron Custom Builders.

Jose Cintron

President

Since 2007, Jose has been dedicated to the construction business, remodeling and building single family homes throughout Southwest Florida. The creation of Cintron Custom Builders is the culmination of his experience. He has acquired the key ingredients required to build and create lifelong, meaningful, and genuine relationships with customers. All the work, tears, love, failures, and success have molded him into the visionary he has become. Jose's vision is to deliver an experience that cannot be bought or measured with money, and that is to treat his customers like "Family" with sincerity and integrity.

Jose's aspirations to build high quality custom homes and keen attention to detail distinguish every Cintron home. He does not relent until the finished product is perfect and his customers' expectations are exceeded.

John Blaine

Vice President

John Blaine is a Connecticut native and a graduate of Bryant University in Smithfield, Rhode Island. He is Cintron Custom Builders' Vice President. John has been involved in the Naples real estate and construction industries for over 20 years. His goal is to make Cintron, the most sought-after and respected brand among custom home builders in Southwest Florida.

BUILDING THROUGHOUT SOUTHWEST FLORIDA

Southwest Florida on the Gulf Coast offers a unique blend of lifestyles. Known for its warm tropical climate,

sugar sand beaches,
year-round outdoor activities and sports, it is no wonder the area is a popular location. From Marco Island to Ft.
Myers and in between lies incomparable
Naples, Bonita Springs, Estero and Sanibel. All wonderful communities.

Where We Build

Naples and surrounding communities, including Marco Island, Ft. Myers, Bonita Springs, Estero and Sanibel, all have unique personalities, and all are beautiful, spectacular areas to build your new home. They provide excellent health care facilities, top school districts, varied employment opportunities, and offer a host of the finest recreational activities, including the most beautiful natural beaches found anywhere. Cintron Custom Builders is ready to build your dream home throughout Collier and Lee Counties.

With a vast collection of distinctive communities, from acreage neighborhoods, to gated and waterfront communities, there are locations and opportunities to fit every lifestyle and budget in Southwest Florida. Southwest Florida healthcare ranks among the highest rated systems in all of Florida. Collier County and Lee County healthcare systems both ranked "top hospital" designations in the state.

Both, Collier and Lee County schools boast a large number of superb public and private schools. Dozens of local schools have earned high honors, including Florida's Five Star Award for excellence. Southwest Florida's weather allows year-round participation in all sports.
